Web Designer (Volunteer)
Oregon Cartoon Institute
Jan 2011 - Jan 2018 (7 years 1 month)
I am currently a volunteer for the oregon cartoon institute as a graphic and web designer.

Graphic / Motion / Web Design
Cornell Pump, a Roper Technologies Company
Mar 2010 - Feb 2014 (4 years)
Here I design new logos and revamp old ones. I create flyers, signs, stickers, book, manuals, brochures and other various print ready pieces for trade shows and company promotional materials. I also update the company website with new images, text and .pdf's. Basically, I have stumbled into the realm of Desktop Publishing with a main course of Graphic Design. What's for desert? Web Design... mmmm, sounds good. I'll have that.

Graphic / Motion / 3d Design
P.I. Engineering
Mar 2006 - Feb 2009 (3 years)

Build realistic representations of modern train routes and train yards for clients such as Union Pacific, BNSF, General Electric and Rail Sciences. Create 3d models for placement in TMTS (engine:Unreal) using such software as 3d Canvas, Trainsim Modeler, Shapeviewer and various other in-house software programs. Models included houses, buildings, various flora and fauna, the entire gamut of railroad equipment from switches to signals. Build locomotives and rolling stock which included making the skins (textures) for the models using Photoshop CS3 as well as creating Alpha images and channel for use with in the simulator to reduce polygon count. Operate CVS daily to maintain a strict management and update of all new content, which would be used in the simulator by other artists and programmers. Organize, shoot and edit promotional web videos for various company products. Make custom graphics and animations for company products as well as running photo shoots for current and new company products including RailDriver, ShipDriver and X-Keys.
